Let’s Talk About It
CAN BEXAR COUNTY LATINOS BE NON BIAS?

By Yvette Tello

Do you think it way off for Bexar County to kick off its disparity study that is examining an overly Latino population with a project team of 6 African Americans, 3 Indian Americans, 2 Anglos and only 1 Hispanic? The purpose of the Study is to determine whether a Government Agency has discriminated against certain groups due to their race or gender. I can’t imagine Atlanta would be okay with a project team of 6 Latinos, 3 Indian Americans, 2 Anglos and only 1 African American being hired to perform a disparity study on the mostly Black community? What do you think? Let’s talk about it. #letstalkaboutit.

Mary Svettlik Watkins: “Hispanic is not a race - it is Caucasian; I think the commission should mirror the population.”

Javier Antonio Guzman: “How much is this study going to cost? That should be the first question.”

Rick Carter: “I probably know half those people in the study, they don’t have anything better to do.”

Monica B Rite Brite: “If it is an overly Latino population, then the members of the team clearly represent the minority population. On the other hand, it almost sounds like the study is to see if the Latino population is committing the discrimination. Might need to dig deeper…”

JoAnn Rodriguez: “I don’t think Atlanta would even attempt it.”

Alex Garcia: “Who chose the team? How were they qualified? If they are vetted properly, race shouldn’t matter.”

Denise Johnson: “Wasn’t it you, Yvette Tello, who wrote about the crabs in the bucket effect? Latinos think they get ahead by pulling each other down so maybe this study might be non bias with less Latinos on this team.”

Julissa G: “Not all Latinos are trying to pull their people down. There are some of us who believe in building our people up!”
About the Artist
The Jacqueline Becerra Mural by Los Otros

Dr. Ricardo Romo

On a bright sunny Sunday afternoon last week two large white buses pulled up to Botello’s Grocery store on El Paso Street. The buses transported Pastor Jaqueline Becerra to her old neighborhood where a mural of her portrait and words of inspiration was unveiled.

The stunning 45 foot mural honors nurse, pastor, and philanthropist Jacqueline Becerra, and is part of Western Governors University’s [WGU] national “Role Model Murals” project.

Two of San Antonio’s outstanding muralists, Los Otros Murals, had just completed the large mural the day before. The Los Otros Murals team, “Shek” Vega and Nik Soupe, have undertaken mural projects across the city of San Antonio, and this mural at the Botello Store turned out to be one of their best.

WGU Texas Chancellor, Dr. Steven Johnson, commented that Jaqueline represents the ideals that WGU Texas values most: determination, community and a willingness to give back.” Becerra earned a Master of Science in Nursing degree from WGU in 2018. In her work as a religious pastor, she encourages others to achieve their goals. The mural shows Becerra’s face with owl’s wings behind her.

Shek and Soupe are both self taught artists and their stories as street taggers and graffiti artists have similar trajectories. As one might expect, these artists each have a different story in finding a passion to paint.

“Shek” Vega was born and raised in South San Antonio and began his creative career as a graffiti artist at age 15. Shek’s vibrant and explosive imagination attracted the attention of the Pepsi-Cola marketing team which featured him in a TV commercial engaged in mural painting and drinking cool Pepsi soda during the breaks.

Nik Soupe was born and raised in South Texas. A product of McAllen, he lived in numerous border communities while growing up. His parents labored as migrant workers. As a teenager he painted automobiles during the summer months, a job which kept his hobby of graffiti art in check.

Soupe loved art, but also loved literature and came to San Antonio in the early 1990s to study English at UTSA. After completing his studies, he turned to art and for a time managed a warehouse he developed as an artistic cooperative. In 2014 he joined Shek and began to paint murals on a full time basis. Since his partnership with Shek, Soupe and Shek have painted more than 50 murals throughout San Antonio.

When Shek and Los Otros Murals are not painting murals they are doing creative work for the San Antonio Spurs and several other corporations. In a recent effort to expand their branding campaign, for example, the Spurs merchandising team contracted Shek to design caps and T-Shirts incorporating images that reflect graffiti and mural art.

Western Governors University engaged Los Otros Murals’ talents to feature a student who overcame numerous hardships and went on to achieve her goals. The wording on the mural says “Ambition Never Rests.” The marketing folks at WGU recognized the powerful messages that community murals can tell and plan to commission more murals throughout the nation. The mural by Los Otros Murals is the first and sends a positive message to the Westside. (All photos courtesy of Dr. Ricardo Romo)
El Gran Donante Griffin de Alamo Colleges fue Honrado con la Prestigiosa Medalla Mirabeau B. Lamar

Por Kay Hendricks

Traducido por LPT

Sr. F. O’Neil Griffin de Kerrville, Texas, recibió recientemente la prestigiosa Medalla Mirabeau B. Lamar, que se otorga a individuos, fundaciones y organizaciones que han hecho contribuciones extraordinarias a la educación superior en Texas. Un banquero semi-retirado, Griffin fue co-nominado por el Dr. Mike Flores, canciller del Alamo Colleges District, y el Dr. Charlie McCormick, presidente de la Universidad de Schreiner.

Un importante colaborador filantrópico del Centro Greater Kerrville de Alamo Colleges, las contribuciones de Griffin al Centro Greater Kerrville comenzaron después de leer sobre el bajo porcentaje de estudiantes de Kerrville que asistían a la universidad. Griffin decidió ver si se podía hacer algo para cambiar eso, lo que resultó en la transformación de un edificio abandonado de secundaria en el Centro Alamo Colleges District Greater Kerrville, que se estableció en 2008 como una sucursal del distrito con sede en San Antonio. Su donación de $2.445 millones en 2017 proporcionó becas y otros programas para el centro y es el regalo más grande en la historia de Alamo Colleges.

“El Alamo Colleges District está agradecido por la visión y el apoyo filantrópico del Sr. Griffin que ha llevado a un cambio positivo en la cultura universitaria de su comunidad”, dijo Flores. “Su generoso apoyo ha ayudado a 130 estudiantes de Kerrville a seguir una educación superior y aumentar su movilidad económica y social”, agregó.

McCormick expresó su agradecimiento a Griffin por “su excelente impacto en la educación en general, pero su profundo impacto en Schreiner en particular. En cada momento cuando una necesidad se hace evidente, Neil ha dado un paso adelante con apoyo. En una escuela como Schreiner, que es una institución de servicio hispano con una gran cantidad de estudiantes elegibles para Pell y de primera generación, el impacto de este apoyo en estudiantes individuales, sus familias enteras y el estado de Texas es realmente profundo.”

Griffin ha apoyado generosamente a la comunidad de educación superior desde 1954, con su primer regalo de beca para la Universidad de Texas en Austin tres años después de obtener su MBA. A lo largo de los años, Griffin ha brindado generosas donaciones a la Universidad Estatal de Arkansas, el Centro de Cáncer MD Anderson de la Universidad de Texas en Houston, la Escuela de Medicina de la Universidad de Texas en Galveston y la Universidad de Schreiner en Kerrville, donde es un administrador emérito.

“Nada es más importante que la educación, que es mi pasión”, dijo Griffin al aceptar el premio. “Durante mucho tiempo, rechacé la publicidad y el reconocimiento. Pero luego tuve un amigo que insistió en que debía dejar que se usara mi nombre. Él dijo: ‘No sabes qué tipo de influencia podría tener en tus compañeros’. Entonces, si mis regalos ayudan a otros a dar, eso está bien para mí. Me enseñaron que aquellos de nosotros que somos bendecidos tenemos la obligación de retribuir, y me gustaría ser recordado como alguien que hace eso’.”

La Medalla Lamar, creada en 1977, es presentada cada año por los presidentes y cónsules de Kerrville que son miembros del Consejo de Presidentes y Cónsules de las Universidades Públicas, los Colegios y Universidades Independientes de Texas y la Asociación de Colegios Comunitarios de Texas.

En Alamo Colleges District, la educación de alta calidad y los costos asequibles brindan un valor excepcional a los estudiantes y ex alumnos que son los principales contribuyentes a la economía y la cultura de nuestra comunidad. Para obtener más información, vaya a https://www.alamo.edu said Albert Uresti.

1951-1962

Researched, compiled & edited by Mario Longoria, Ph.D.

-1951. In July, the U.S. Congress enacts Public Law 78, formally titled the “Bracero Program,” which becomes a major element in the agriculture of Texas, California, New Mexico, Arizona, Arkansas, and a minor element of Labor one in 20 other states. Interestingly, the states of Texas, The Madcom Bracco Story and California account for almost three-fourths of the total braceros brought into the U.S.

-1954. In the landmark case of “Hernandez vs. Texas”, the U.S. Supreme Court recognized Mexican Americans as a separate class of people suffering profound discrimination in Texas. The court ruled that Pete Hernandez, who was convicted of murder, was denied equal protection under the law because the jury selection process in Jackson County, Texas excluded Mexican Americans from jury service for the previous 25 years. Mexican American attorney Gus Garcia’s eloquent argument before the Supreme Court of the U.S was allowed an additional 16 minutes that resulted in the case’s reversal. Interestingly, the case was heard by the Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall who a few days later argued another equally important Civil Rights case of “Brown versus Board of Education.”

-“Operation Wetback” begins in 1954 and continues into the 1960’s. In the first year of operation over 1.2 million Mexican illegals and some U.S. citizens are deported back to Mexico.

-1957 The first Civil Rights Act is passed by the U.S. Congress.

-Texas State Senators Henry B. Gonzalez from San Antonio and Abraham “Chic” Kazan from Laredo, Texas filibustered the passage of 5 segregation Bills in the State Senate for 37 hours. When all was said and done, only one Bill passed.

--Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson and ex-governor Coke Stevenson are involved in a controversial run-off election. Johnson wins by only 85 votes and both parties make charges of voter fraud. Interestingly, in Duval County it is later discovered that 40-50 votes cast in the election were by people no longer living.

-In Hernandez vs. Driscoll Consolidated Independent School District, the Texas court held that abusing the language deficiency of Mexican American children and grouping them in separate schools is “unreasonable race discrimination.”

-1962. Brackenridge High School football team of San Antonio, Texas captured the State Class AAAAA High School Football Championship. The team comprised of purely Mexican and Black players beat predominately rich and powerful Anglo schools. It is the first and only time in Texas School Boy Football History a diverse Mexican and Black team captured the Texas Schoolboy 16-AAAAA Football State Championship.
In 1977, Ann Whitehead, a local social worker, realized the pervasiveness of family violence in San Antonio. She envisioned an environment where victims of abuse could find respite from fear. She enlisted the help of Reverend Don Baugh, Director of the San Antonio Community of Churches, and together with faith, determination and $400.00 opened the Battered Women and Children’s Shelter (BWCS) of Bexar County on March 9, 1977.

In May 2002, the Battered Women & Children’s Shelter (BWCS) moved into La Paloma De La Paz, a shelter complex that accommodates 220 people. La Paloma De La Paz is located in a complex with a variety of residential and supportive services. These together provide a cost-efficient synergy of services, and expand options and choices for clients. BWCS has grown extensively over the last 42 years, what was once a three bedroom facility offering only emergency shelter today has a 60,000 sq. ft. emergency residential facility, a 15,000 sq. ft. non-residential facility, Court & Military Liaison Program at the Bexar County Civil District Courts, Community Based Counseling Program at Haven for Hope and the first accredited Batterer Intervention Program in San Antonio.

With a professional team of licensed counselors, case managers and attorneys, BWCS provides their residential and non-residential clients supportive and life-saving programs that together give options and choices for families.

Today, FVPS is able to offer residential and non-residential clients shelter, transitional housing, counseling for adults, children, families, and legal services. These services help individuals and families recover from the pain and long-term effects of domestic violence.

The Can’t Beat Love San Antonio Youth Film Contest is an annual film competition designed for high school students to explore difficult issues that teenagers may face. The topic for this year is Prejudice. The deadline for submissions closed last month and the winners will be announced at the screening on February 26 at the Santikos Silverado Theater located at Bandera Rd. and 1604. Doors open at 6:00 PM and screenings begin at 7:00 PM.

Filmmakers were challenged to explore the topic of prejudice in any one of several ways: how they recognize prejudice and how they have witnessed it, the impact it has on their lives, families and the wider community, and possible solutions for helping to curb the undercurrent of any prejudice that may exist in their school or community.

As in year’s past, filmmakers submit a short film (less than 5 min in length) or a public service announcement (less than 60 seconds in length). Previous topics included human trafficking, cyber bullying, and teen dating violence. Alamo Heights High School Film Teacher, John Munoz said, “The Can’t beat love video contest allows me as a teacher to not only give my students a project they can complete in class, but it also creates an environment amongst my classroom that is extremely cooperative. From the unveiling of the topic to the huge spectacular awards ceremony, my kids are working together and not only creating cool videos, but they are educating themselves about a serious topic society faces. I can’t say enough great things about this contest, I will always assign it to my students as long as they continue to offer such a great event.”

Can’t Beat Love is pleased to offer several of the winning films as tools for teachers, school counselors and community to help spur discussion among teens. Over the past seven years, Can’t Beat Love has challenged high school students to address bullying, substance abuse and addiction, peer pressure, etc., and, while all the films are remarkable, there are many that stand out for their artistry, messaging, vision, and talent. Educators and counselors are encouraged to view the short films and then consider some of the associated discussion questions and resource lists to further explore the various messages and themes in their classrooms.

Winning films from previous Can’t Beat Love film contests are being used by Family Violence Prevention Services, Bexar County Probation Department, church/synagogue groups, as well as a variety of youth groups and schools.

La Vida

Un Poema Por Joe Aleman

Como Dicen:
La Vida da muchas vueltas.
Un día estas de pie.
Y el otra día en muletas

Un día tienes padre
Y madre.
Y luego de repente:
Por destino o
Mala suerte:
Caen en la muerte.

La vida es insegura.
A veces te va bien.
A veces es dura.

Un día eres casado.
A veces por X’s razon
Te encuentras:
Viudo o divorciado.

Pero la vida sí que
Y tienes que olvidar
El pasado.
La vida trae muchas Sorpresas.
Hay épocas de abundancia
Y épocas de escasez.
Y épocas que todo se vuelve
Alrevez. Y no sabemos
Que hacer

La vida puede
Traer alegría
O puede ser
Muí fría.
Te puede traer gozo.
O hacerte sentir
Que estas en un pozo.

De modo:
Que podemos hacer.
Solo tomarla:
Día con día.
Disfrutar la durante
La juventude.
Mientras estas
En buena salud.
Porque tarde
O temprano
Te haras anciano.
Y vendran complicaciones
De a monton.

La Vida:
No es para siempre.
Solo es un puente:
Que nos conduce:
Haciá la muerte.

Spurs de gira por el Rodeo de San Antonio

Por José I. Franco

Los Spurs con su entrenador en jefe Gregg Popovich, partieron a su tradicional gira anual para darle paso al colorido Rodeo de San Antonio, en lo que será su 17ª edición. Spurs que en su vitrina (AT&T Center) exhibe orgullosamente sus cinco trofeos capturados en las temporadas de 1999, 2003, 2005, 2007 y 2014, ahora con varios prospectos y novatos, capitaneados por los aleros LaMarcus Aldridge, DeMar DeRozan y el guardia estelar Dejounte Murray, tratarán de superar la marca de la pasada gira en la que solo ganaron uno de ocho partidos.

Su recorrido por siete plazas les llevara 20 días y un recorrido de 6,721 millas, visitando a los duros rivales, Lakers, Clippers, Trail Blazers, Kings, Nuggets, Thunder al que enfrentaran en dos fechas, y el Jazz.

Su retorno a su sede el estadio AT&T Center, está programado para el miércoles 26 de febrero, para recibir a su rival de la autopista 35, los Mavericks de Dallas, y seguidamente el sábado 29 al Magic de Orlando.

La NBA se encuentra jugando la segunda mitad de su rol regular en la temporada 2019-2020, que en total son 82 partidos (para cada club), con 41 partidos de local y 41 de visitantes. San Antonio, se encuentra en el noveno escaño de la tabla general en la Conferencia del Oeste, que ha venido siendo liderada por el trabuco de “King James” (LeBron James).

Spurs en su pasada contienda contra el visitante Suns de Phoenix, vistieron uniforme con los colores de camuflaje, honrando a la ciudad y sus bases militares por ser denominada USA Military City.

De acuerdo a vocero del departamento de medios informativos, los Spurs y el resto de equipos que componen la NBA, por acuerdo oficial de su directiva, cada uno tiene en su vestidor cuatro estilos y colores de uniformes. Spurs, tiene el blanco y listas obscuras que es el que utiliza más seguidor en casa. El de gira “Silver and Black”, obscuro y listas blancas. Gris y listas blancas, y el color militar.

A pesar de que el club bajo el timón de Popovich, quien por 22 temporadas consecutivas los ha guiado a la postemporada, no ha tenido el éxito acostumbrado, en su partido contra Suns, que perdieron con cerrada pizarra 99-013, sus elementos tanto estelares como suplentes, se mostraron contentos porque en cada cotejo han ido superando el plan defensivo y ofensivo.

“Suns es un equipo que no se rinde. Nosotros, hemos venido ejecutando buenos disparos al aro, tanto dentro como fuera del perímetro”, dijo el guardia australiano Patty Mills.

El súper reforzado equipo Potosinos, que dirige el manager y jugador Catarino Obregón, el coach y jugador Pedro Espinoza, ante Bravos del timonel José Mendoza, con pizarra de 14-7 carreras, consumó su segunda victoria consecutiva en la temporada Veteranos 2020 que se encuentra presentando cada sábado Liga de Béisbol Veteranos y sus organizadores Eloy Rocha y Simón Sánchez. Potosinos contó con el valioso servicio de su lanzador estelar derecho Ubaldo Montelongo, quien tiro las nueve entradas superando a los lanzadores rivales, el abridor Miguel Leijaja y Rick Felán, quien logró imponerse en la lomita, poniendo en la artillería potosina. “Tenemos equipo para salir adelante en lo que resta de la temporada (deseamos ser campeón). Hoy tuvimos elementos que lograron sacar ventaja, tanto en la ofensiva como en la defensiva”, dijo el dirigente y patrocinador Catarino Obregón. “Bravos es un buen equipo, lamentablemente los errores nos ‘mataron’. Alineamos buen cuadro, nos faltó pitching, pero ya vendrán mejores partidos”, apuntó Mendoza. Por su lado el campeón Broncos de Reynosa SA de Roberto Garza, con pitching de su estelar serpentinero Gilbert Salazar, derrotó 5-2 al popular Cachorros de Nava de los directivos, Alejandro (Rábano) Becerra, Benito Martínez y Rubén (Alacrán) Galindo. La derrota fue para Alejandro Martínez. Para no perder la tradición, luego de finalizar sus respectivos partidos, Cachorros, saborearon deliciosas tortas preparadas especialmente por el chef Víctor Silva (Taquitos al Minuto), y Potosinos, disfrutaron “Taquitos de carne Asada”, que fueron preparados por las damas, Leonor Obregón, Griselda Torres y Mary Espinoza. En la gran final de categoría Abierta dominical, los Indios de Nava dirigidos por Juan “Pachín” Martínez y Rudy Barrientez, con pitching combinado del abridor Alan Mow y Juan Serrano, emparejaron la serie con blanqueada de 3-0 ante su duro rival Piratas de Sabinas, que nada pudo hacer para anotar carreras. La derrota fue para el lanzador izquierdo Gregorio Quintero. Ahora la serie con una victoria por bando, se va al tercer encuentro, en lo que prácticamente es la revancha entre ambas novenas que en la pasada temporada como campeones de la zona norte y zona sur se disputaron por primera vez el banderín denominado “Campeón de Campeones 2019”. Indios se coronó y ahora está defendiendo el banderín. El tercer partido de acuerdo al señor Simón Sánchez, se jugará en el horario de las 12 p.m. en el estadio Potranco campo número 2. “Qué juegazo, así es el béisbol. Hasta que cae el último out, se puede cantar victoria. Las carreras se anotaron en el tercer y cuarto episodios con doblete de Tim Palinscar quien produjo dos”, indicó Juan Martínez. “Se repite la final del año pasado. Volver a jugar ante un rival de la categoría de Indios, es bueno para nosotros y nuestra base de seguidores. En el siguiente partido, vamos a jugar con mayor agresividad desde que se realice el primer lanzamiento. Piratas en su plan de juego es para arrebatarle la corona (si se puede) a Indios”, afirmó el manager De Luna. En las fotos aparecen: Bravos de José Mendoza. K9s4KIDs K9 Bah’le Retires from Hondo ISD Police Department

By Kortney Kruse

K9 Bah’le retires from Hondo ISD Police Department after faithfully serving the community of Hondo ISD Police Department due to age. The 10-year-old German Shepherd single purpose narcotics K9 has been working and protecting the students and staff at Hondo ISD.

“K9 Bah’le was more than a working dog or tool” said Chief Brian Valenzuela. “K9 Bah’le was a faithful and loyal partner to Hondo ISD. We are extremely thankful to have had K9 Bah’le serve our community for the past few years.”

The Hondo ISD Police Department commended K9 Bah’le for his service to the department and community. Throughout his years of service, Bah’le has touched the lives of many children and loved to serve the community at Hondo ISD. The students loved greeting K9 Bah’le at school everyday.

“K9 Bah’le loved his job, was eager to work everyday, and definitely earned his retirement” said K9s4COPs and K9s4KIDs Founder, Kristi Schiller. “K9s4COPs and K9s4KIDs has been truly honored to have provided this K9 grant to Hondo ISD and helped provide an extra level of comfort to the nearly 2,000 students, their parents, and the faculty and staff in creating a safe learning environment.”

K9s4COPs was founded in 2010 by Texas Philanthropist, Kristi Schiller, to fund the donations of highly trained K9s to law enforcement agencies and schools around the world. These donations offset the costs of budget cuts, which can deeply affect the K9 unit. In 2013, Schiller founded the initiative K9s4KIDs, which provides trained K9s to schools and universities. Currently, our K9s4KIDs K9s protect over 1.7 million students on a daily basis.

Typically, each K9 can cost in range of $15,000 to a specialized K9 that can value in excess of $45,000. These essential tools are often the first to fall to department budget cuts. To date K9s4COPs has granted over 200 K9s to law enforcement agencies and schools in the United States as well as internationally to Paris, France. K9s4COPs has aided in the removal of over $400 million worth of contraband off the street. K9s4COPs canines have confiscated more than 10,000 firearms, participated in 7,500 arrests and helped keep the peace in over 4,000 public demonstrations.

K9s4COPs is funded through private donations and community support. For more information on K9s4COPs and K9s4KIDs or to make a donation, please visit www.K9s4COPs.org.
